The Company however, reserves the right to value less frequently in extreme circumstances, where the value of the assets may be subject to extreme volatility and uncertain. In such circumstances the Company may defer valuation of assets until normalcy returns. Examples of such circumstances are:

- When one or more stock exchanges which provide a basis for valuation for a substantial portion of the assets of the Fund are closed other than for normal holidays.
- When, as a result of political, economic, monetary or any circumstances out of the control of the Company, the disposal of the assets of the Investment Fund are not reasonable or would not reasonably be practicable without being detrimental to the interests of the remaining policyholders invested in the Investment Fund;
- During periods of extreme volatility of capital markets during which surrenders and switches would, in our opinion, be detrimental to the interests of the existing policyholders sharing the same Investment Fund option;
- In case of natural calamities, strikes, war, civil unrest and riots;
- In event of any force majeure or disaster that affects our normal functioning;
- If so directed by the IRDA.
